SPIRIT OF THE MORNING PRESS.

The Intelligencer contains a luminous article upon the "War and the Bastern Question," wherein it is argued that the only party to the contest, acting upon disinterested purposes, is Turkey; and further, that Russian dominion over Constantinople and the surrounding territory, whenever it shall prevail there, will be an improvement upon the existing condition of things in that quarter-a benefit to the interests of humanity.

The Union contains the speech of Judge Douglas at the dinner recently given in his bonor at the Tremont House, Chicago. The oficial journal also defends Senator Gwin against an anonymous charge originating in California.

We are indebted to Joe Shillington for a copy of Godey's Lady's Book for November. Joe is ever mindful, continually adding to our shilling library.

Shillington has also sent us " Yankee Notions," for December. It is decidedly the richest number yet out. We advise our political friends, who have the blues about the late elections, to purchase copies that they may have a hearty laugh. Shillington has the last number of the "Illustrated Magasine of Art." We are pleased to see that the publishers have determined to continue this valuable publica-

Cole's REVOLVERS .- The English papers state that the number of the repeating pistols or revolvers manufactured by Mr. Colt during the last two years amounts to two hundred thousand. The Vicercy of Egypt has lately ordered five thousand of them for the equipment of his cavalry; and the British Beard of Ordnance dispatched, some time ago, ten thousand to the Baltic fleet.

A desperate battle was fought on the State of New York are concerned, they are in Ohio river lately near Louisville, between two a better condition now than at any previous parties, hunters and raftsmen, who had been over the river hunting. The hunters fired they split. They came together in the elecdischarges from their long guns and the rafts- tion of Pierce, not on principle, but in the men used short sixes and revolvers. One of hope (each wing) of getting the better of the the hunters, named Ray, was wounded in the other in the division of the spoils. The result arm and breast, and both the raftsmen were crippled and compelled to beat a retreat. The battle was commenced by the raftsmen run- ing. They were the Administration's bitter ning into the other party and striking them enemies up to the day of the New York elecwith their oars. Hunting must be an agree able sport in that vicinity.

THE NEW YORK ELECTION .- The Evening Post of Saturday evening says:

We give to day what purports to be official returns from all but two counties in the State. Echuyler and New York, which are not likely faith. They have Seymour for the formerto vary much from the figures we make. They a man of unbounded popularity throughout Clark s majority over Seymour 958. We ter no chance of this majority being overcome.

WASHINGTON NEWS AND GOSSIP. New York -Though the telegraphic reports of the result of the New York election still keep us in a fog, as it were, it is past doubt that its effect, politically speaking, has been and is to be capital for the future of the Dem ocratic party of that State. The official returns show that at this time the Hard organi sation is merely nominal, the number of votes thrown for its Gubernatorial candidate being less than the average of late years for the most ultra nominees of the school of aboli tionists who repudiate the Union and the Bi ble as the rules for all Americans' political and moral guidance. Indeed, Hardism, since tained, passes merely for the political joke of the times. A large wing of that former party voted for Ullman, while some sixty-five or reventy thousand of its former voters-two thirds-voted for Seymour. There were perhaps twenty thousand Free-soil Softs in the whole State who finally discennected themselves from the Democratic party, going over to the Seward Whig ticket, and voting straight through the Whig ticket-Clark at the head of it. The result in Preston Kings' county of St. Lawrence proves this fact; Clark having eccived there the usual overwhelming majorty for the Democrats. According to the returns from that county, it is evident that full ix thousand persons, who heretofore acted with the Democratic party voted the Seward ticket on this occasion, "straight out"-as hey say in New York. We remark above that the Democratic party has been greatly strengthened in the result of this election. We are satisfied that in it the two extreme wings of the former Democratic organisation sloushed off. The very-ultra Hards went off to the Nativist or ganisation, while the very-ultra Free-Soilers went off to the now new Anti-slavery Whigh party, who assume to themselves the title of Republicans." Though that party in non slaveholding States south of New York, as well as in the Massachusetts and Maine elec tions have had the aid of "Know Nothingism," it is already very clear that the latter finding they have strength to stand alone have set up for themselves, and, aiming to be come national in their influence, will continue to seek to divest themselves of responsibility for the acts of their northern and western brethren who have voted for Abolitionists for Congress and other officers in order to show their strength as it were. We need hardly write here that there are two features in the policy of the new party to identification of religion with politics in this country; and next, the adoption of secreey as a means of affecting American public affairs. We are willing, hewever, to give them credit for what they have effected in New York in the way of withdrawing the conservative Whig vote from the Abolition nominee. In doing this they have expessed the real weakness of the Seward cause. A month before the election we predicted that Clark would, in the end, be supported by few ethers than confirmed ismatles. In coming to that conclusion we anticipated that Know Nothingism would absorb the conservative Whig vote. The result has borne out this judgment to the letter. So far as the Democratic party of the time since the nomination of Polk. In that of that division—as both could not be preferred-sent off the disappointed wing growltion. In that election, at least sixty-five thousand of them buried the hatchet, renewing in good faith their allegiance to their former political associations. They have now (the two united wings) what they have not had for years before, vis : a leader and a common the Empire State; and for the latter, they have the policy of acquiescence in the Nebrasks bill, as leaving with the people of the Territories, when they shall become States. the right and duty of determining what their institutions shall be. The Last Humbug.-We perceive that correspondents of some of the northern papers writing from this city, are already proclaiming what the President contemplates saying in the annual message, in the preparation of which he is now understood to be engaged. One of these gentlemen gravely assures the public that he certainly will ask Congress to tom house named Isaacks, who was born in put thirty millions of dollars at his disposal, as a war fund, and will argue that our relations Brigham Youngs' time as Governor of with Spain render that measure wise, &c. Another, more moderate than that writer. says that he will only ask for some ten millions, after that fashion. Upon other points they profess to give similar details with reference to what he intends to say in the mes-

Now, this is all the sheerest balderdash imiginable. No man outside of the Cabinet can possibly know any thing concerning what the ef New York, is edited and published by Father Gavazzi and Sechi de Casali, both uning any thing of interest transpiring in this city. The Want of a Mavy-on the part of this Government, was realised by all thinking men here, during the past week, when it was not deemed impossible that we might soon be on clergy and laity adhere to the high-shurch bad terms with France. Our public menlegislative—seem, for the most part, incapable | ple were not to be defeated, and, despite the of realising the fact, that the Navy of the United States is next to no Navy at all, when compared with that of any first class maritime power of Europe. They turn to statistics in such a case as we had last week, and for the moment, realise the fact that to get suddenly into war with any such power would be to insure the utter annihilation of our commerce on the ocean, with the loss of perhaps ten times as much to our business men as it would cost the Government to get ready for any such emergency. As the danger blows over, the realisation of the necessity for an efficient navy vanishes with it, and they at once begin to calculate that it is easier to swim with the current of popular opinion, denouncing naval Demecracy, that in the country, a few miles expenditures as unnecessary extravagance, from the city, the snow is several inches deep encies the fact that greatly increased and increasing foreign commerce absolutely requires for its safety, under all circumstances, a great.

ly increased and increasing navy. From Cuba .- We have again, this morning. private advices from Cuba. They are to the 13th inst., the very latest received any where. Our correspondent in Havana, than whom no man on the island is better informed, feels certain that the day for the independence of Cuba is rapidly approaching. He is sure that the disaffection to the Government is now far greater than ever before, and that the Creoles have very generally of late managed to prooure effective arms, while a critical examination of the Government's means of defence, made by the chiefs of the patriot organization, has satisfied them that their plans must succeed. We shall certainly not be surprised at any time within the next three months to hear of a revolution there, and that the revolutionists hold all the island except a few fortified positions, long enough to make armed emigration from the United States to Cuba a lawful procedure, the emigrants taking the chances of a capture on the way.

Speculations in Public Lands .- A Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Sun pronounces it almost impossible to prevent false pre-emption locations under the graduation law. This law, it will be recollected, puts the price of the public lands longest in the market down to 12 cents. On the 30th of October, the General Land Office issued a circular, which being observed at the various land offices, can hardly fail to operate as an effective bar against the acquisition of good titles to any locations of lands under the grad uation law not made in strict accordance with the spirit of the provisions thereof. This particular law provides in detail against locations under it, except to actual settlers, those designing to become actual settlers, or persons disposed to increase the size of their farms adjoining the tracts of public lands which they desire to take up. The circular in question was to carry out this feature of that leg-

The New York Gubernatorial Election .-It is now reduced to a certainty that the report of the State canvassers can alone settle this knotty question. The county canvassers in some counties of the State, according to their custom, have thrown out votes for "H." Seymour, instead of "Horatio" Seymour. The State canvassers, to whom these votes are returned as for a different person than Horatio Seymour, are expected, according to their custom, to count them for the latter. Gov. ernor Seymour's friends here and in New York, feeling assured that there are enough such votes in existence to secure his election are perfectly easy, under the multiplicity of conflicting rumors on the subject which we have had from Albany of late.

Hartford, Conn., on Saturday last, was the theatre of great excitement, growing out of the refusal of the Roman Catholic Bishop to allow the remains of Father Brady to be buried near the church. In consequence of some difficulty with Brady, the Bishop had suspended him, and the treatment the latter had received is believed to have induced the disease with which he died. The people, siding with their former pastor, determined that he should be buried near the church, as he had requested, and on Friday afternoon they had dug a large place for the purpose of building a receptacle for the coffin. This morning the hole was found to have been filled up by the orders of the Bishop; but the peoefforts of the Bishop and priests, succeeded in again opening it. The Bishop then refused to open the church for the funeral service; but, after an hour's delay, the people again succeeded, and the church was opened, when it was found that the altar was so fixed that mass could not be celebrated. But the peo-ple again triumphed, had things put to rights, and a priest, a friend to the deceased, said mass. It was reported that Father B. had been poisoned.

GEORGETOWN CORRESPONDENCE.

GEORGETOWN, Nov. 20, 1854. The recent advance in the value of real es tate in our city differs in one very important particular from the advance which has cosurred in nearly all the cities, small and large in this section of the Union, and is one that is not likely to be affected to any extent, if at all, by any pressure in the money market or bank panio that may occur. While, in most cases, he advance elsewhere has been brought about mainly by a speculative demand, which must of necessity be checked to a greater or less extent by any interruption in the money market, nothing of the kind has existed in Georgetown. There has been no speculative demand. Every one of the many sales which has occurred has been to actual settlers, old residents, who, through industry and frugality, have saved sufficient to enable them to buy or build, either to rent or to be occupied by themselves; or to persons from elsewhere, who have been drawn here and have become residents, by the tide of prosperity which has attended the efforts of our enterprising merchants and mechanics for the last several years, consequently the advance must be permanent, and increase rather diminish. Our location furnishes many natural advantages for mercantile or manufacturing operations, facilities for reaching our market are constantly improving, navigation upon our Canal is growing more permanent and less liable to interruption from breaks every year. The financial condition of our Corporation, banks, merchants, and manufacturers (mainly of flour) never was in a more safe and health; condition, consequently business must con tinue to increase, and in the same ratio that business increases will the demand for and value of real property increase. We doubt not, if the wise suggestions thrown out in the Star of Thursday last, were taken held of and acted upon by the citizens of Washington and Georgetown, but that a fresh impetus would be given to the prosperity of both places. Let all sectional feelings, all jealousy, all strife be laid aside, and let our Corporations, as you suggested, appoint a set of long-headed, liberal minded, public spirited representatives to attend to the interests of both places before Congress, and let them act upon the old motto, "in union there is strength," and we venture to assert that they will accomplish more real good for both places during one session of Congress than they will in a whole life-time acting as we have been heretofore, Washington pulling one way and Georgetown the other. Permit us to say to you that your suggestions met with the hearty approbation f every one of our citizens who read it.

There will be services in all of our churches on Thanksgiving day, and sermons appropriate to the occasion, preached by the respective pastors. At 7 o'clock p. m. there will be a sabbath school exhibition in the Methodist Episcopal church. We doubt not the occasion will be one of much interest
